

Exceptions to any city ordinance or written city policy may not be made by any city employee, city council member, or the mayor without the prior approval of the city council. In emergency situations declared by the mayor, exceptions to written city policies and ordinances may be granted by the mayor.